SECOND TIDAL WAVE ISOLATES 20,000

Fordham Seismologist Re- ports Three Sizeable After Shocks Of Quakes

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Recurring earthquakes continued to shake the Caribbean area every few minutes today as the toll of known dead soared toward the 100 mark.

Meanwhile, food supplies were rapidly giving out and inhabitants of the islands were living in fear of further heavy damage and new tidal waves.

Report Water Spout

A water spout was reported off the Puerto Rican coast, adding to the freaks of nature already seen this week.

Hundreds of persons from coastal cities have decided to remain in the hills and woods of the interior until the tremors subside and flood waters recede to their normal beaches.

Reports from the Dominican republic indicated that panic and food shortages were widespread on that island.

The second tidal wave, small in comparison with its predecessor, nevertheless flooded agricultural area, isolated 20,000 persons at Puerto Plata and swept through the towns of Sanchez, Matanzas and Samana.

Close Churches

The archbishop at Ciudad Trujillo closed churches to prevent possible additional casualties from collapsing ceilings and walls.

A Haiti dispatch said that damage there has reached the half-million figure.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Hay fever victims are getting ready for their annual period of sniffles. Next Thursday will officially open the hay fever season, when the sneezing will take on unprecedented proportions all over the country.

Hardly a day goes by when Pa-New discovers some new aged gardener on one of the city buses, or walking along the city streets carrying a large basket of shiny red tomatoes that he had grown in his garden after months of weeding hoeing and other care necessary for the growth of the vegetable.

The odor of elderberry pie was emanating from an East Side home on Saturday morning as Pa-New was making one of his usual jaunts. Numerous elderberry pickers are quite active in the country districts picking the berries for canning and to make pies.

Possible To Lift
Some Bans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Government officials today forecast an easing of restrictions on the use of grain in the near future as prospects brightened for the largest corn and wheat crops in U. S. history.

An agriculture department spokesman said that some restrictions might be eased, but he pointed out that it was improbable that all limitations on the use of grain would be lifted this year.

These restrictions ban the use of grain in alcoholic beverages, limit the size of the present bread loaf, limit the extraction rate of flour from wheat, and restrict feeding of grain to livestock.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Rep. Gillespie (R., Colo., charged today that less than two percent of the relief supplies the United States is sending to China reach the people for whom they are intended.

Gillespie, just returned from the Bikini atom bomb tests, visited China Japan and the Philippine Islands between the two tests. He said:

"UNRRA is doing a terrible job in China."

But, he explained, the fault lies more with the Nationalist government than with UNRRA. The Chinese government asked, and received, UNRRA permission to sell a small portion of the relief goods to finance distribution costs.

"As a result," Gillespie said, "they are selling all the goods."

"Not two per cent of the food-stuffs are getting to the needy people. There's lots of graft!"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Proponents of Jewish immigration into Palestine abandoned hope today of an early solution of their problem.

From the turn of events in Washington it was abundantly clear that the United States planned to move deliberately on the subject, particularly in view of the domestic political implications on the problem.

President Truman at a news conference said he had no plans for doing anything on the Palestine question over the weekend. This was interpreted as indicating that the chief executive is injecting a note of caution into his decisions on the Palestine question.

Slaughter Killed Chances In Vote Against F.E.P.C.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Rep. Slaughter (D. Mo.) was marked out for defeat more than a year ago, it can be revealed today, when he ignored the wishes of two presidents and refused to support the FEPC.

He arrived by plane at the capitol a few minutes before the House Rules committee voted. The count stood 6 to 3 in favor of the bill until Slaughter arrived and cast the decisive vote.

Posse Searches For Two Bandits

Handcuff Little Rock Patrolman To Tree After Stealing His Gun

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 10.—A police posse hunted today for two men, believed to be escaped convicts, who handcuffed State Patrolman Add Schugg to a tree when he stopped them in their small coupe.

The manhunt was continued after Schugg cleared a suspect, who was arrested last night, as one of the pair sought.

State Police Director Jack Porter said he believed the men are escaped convicts.

At first they were believed to have been the two gunmen who robbed the First National Bank of Walters, Okla., of $35,000 last Thursday but Porter said it was "unlikely" they are the bandits.

The fugitives were reported surrounded in a woods south of Little Rock.

Pulled Guns
Schugg stopped the pair in a small coupe with Texas license plates about noon yesterday at nearby

Wrightsville. While Schugg was checking the license the men pulled guns on him and forced him to walk into some nearby woods.

There they took his badge, gun, cartridges and automobile keys and handcuffed him to a tree. Schugg managed to free himself and walked to Wrightsville where he summoned help.

An immediate search of the area was started and road blocks were set up. The Walters bank was robbed in a daring daylight holdup.

Sound Peacetime Economy In Sight Porter Declares

OPA Administrator Says "All Groups In Nation Must Pull Together"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Federal Administrator Paul Porter declared today that the "goal of full employment in a sound peacetime economy is in sight," but he warned that all groups in the nation must "pull together" for a few more months.

The OPA chief in a speech over the ABC network cautioned that the battle against inflation "can be lost in the last round." He declared:

"The first way would be a frantic scramble by business and industry for the materials, parts and various items of equipment which are in such short supply.

Scramble Would Start

"As soon as prices began to move up under the impetus of this scramble, a wave of speculative buying would start. Manufacturers would hoard supplies and hold goods off the market, in the expectation of higher and higher prices."

"The other way in which inflation might start is through a price-wage spiral."

Porter said that the nation "must face the fact that some increase in the cost of living, above the level of last June, is unavoidable." He pointed out that the new price control law slashed subsidies which have held down food prices. He added:

"But on the whole I'm confident that the increase in your cost of living above the level of last June can be held to a small amount—provided all the anti-inflation powers under the law are used effectively."

during World War I, pointed out that the state Legion membership represents "a lot of votes." He added:

Want Voice

"While I can't exactly say we will demand legislation favorable to the veteran, I can say that we will expect the people in high places to listen to our voice."

Legion commander, outlined the legislation which the veterans will probably back at the state convention in Philadelphia starting August 21.

"Our main points will include an adequate housing program, a state bonus for World War II veterans, and certain reforms in state and federal government agencies which deal with veterans," he said.

At the convention, incidentally, will be 4,000 delegates and women Legionnaires and auxiliaries—a total in all of 40,000 to 60,000 persons from all over the state.

"Personally," Rankin said, "I would like to see the state pay veterans a bonus of $500 in cash right now—because now is the time when the ex-servicemen need help the most. I don't see any reason why payment should be made in bonds of any sort."

"I have set my figure at $500 because we of the first war got $200—and the cost of living has jumped about two and a half times during the period between wars. However, there will be a bonus proposals at the convention."

YANK PRISONERS SHOT WHILE POSING

at the trial, conducted last spring, as among "history's blackest," Rosenfeld asserted:

"The German method of shooting American and British and Allied military prisoners was most novel. They were taken into a small room, conveniently located next to the crematorium, and then seated in chairs which faced cameras."

"While waiting to be photographed, prisoners slipped up behind and shot them in the neck. These executions ran into the hundreds."

Of 63 camp officials brought to trial, 53 were sentenced to hang and three to life imprisonment.

People Forget Already

Rosenfeld disclosed there are still 1,700 guards and "petty" officials to be tried. He said that "some are still loose."

The colonel, obviously haunted by his memories of Nazi crimes, remarked that "people already are forgetting the atrocities."

He continued his grisly narrative:

"For gassing, a room was filled with shower nozzles. Thousands of men, women and children, in lots of 200, were stripped of clothing and herded in for 'shower baths.' Instead of water there was gas."

Rosenfeld said that there is no estimate of how many people of allied nations were killed at the camp. He estimated that recorded deaths alone numbered 120,000.

He said that on the contrary Japan, under U. S. military control showed signs of real recovery from the war. Japan he asserted, resembles an anthill, with everyone at work.

PLAN FOR TRIESTE WILL BRING WAR, PREMIER PREDICTS

and abundant political rights, these two adversaries and still hope they will not come to blows?

"Will not the Slavs call for help from their brethren deployed five miles around the city, and will not the Italians reach out through a narrow one-mile gap to their own people?"

Making history, in that he was the first representative of a defeated nation to plead his country's case before a treaty-making body, the Italian premier told the 21 victors nations that the proposed treaty is "extremely severe."

Referring specifically to the troublesome Trieste problem, De Gasperi said it was "compromised from the beginning by persistent war psychology, by constantly referring to the supposed right of the first occupant, and by the absence of a truce between the two parties most directly interested."

The Italian spoke after a new class of personalities developed when the Soviet Union and her satellite nations insisted upon a consultative position for the pro-Communist governments of Premier Enver Hoxha of Albania.

Less Than Versailles

Speaking in Italian, De Gasperi complained that this treaty gives less hope than that of Versailles.

"Permit me to say with the frankness demanded of each of us in this historic hour . . . from the Italian viewpoint, the treaty is extremely severe."

"This time we do not even see the gleam of hope of Versailles, or know that is a program of general disarmament of which disarmament of the vanquished is merely a prelude."

De Gasperi said that he seeks a "general, durable peace," and went on:

"Honorable delegates, I ask you to have confidence to give strength to the Italian Republic—a working people of 47 millions is ready to associate its work to yours, to create a more just world."

The bespectacled, dark-suited De Gasperi mounted the rostrum at 4:15 p. m., shortly after the plenary session was marred by a clash between the chair and the Soviet delegation.

Rebukes Vishinsky

Premier-President Georges Bidault of France, official host to the conference, rebuked Andre Vishinsky, deputy Soviet delegate, for attempting to speak when he did not have the floor.

In the midst of a flurry of discussion that included Yugoslavian charges that Greece is attempting to foment a new war in the Balkans, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov left the conference chamber.

Speeches at that moment were being made in French, which Molotov does not understand. All other members of the Russian delegation remained.

The Bidault-Vishinsky incident occurred when the French chairman attempted to answer a statement from Herbert V. Ewart of Australia. Vishinsky continued to talk, whereupon Bidault rapped the loud bell on his desk and said:

"I am sorry to have to defend the prerogatives of the chair but I am speaking."

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

JERUSALEM, Aug. 10.—Officials hurriedly evacuated the Palestine Government Land Settlement building in the center of Jerusalem today after a mysterious telephone message warned the structure was about to be blown up.

British troops raced to the scene to prevent strangers from entering, while other units were dispatched to police headquarters as reinforcements.

Police patrols operating in the Holy City's Jewish working-class district, meanwhile, arrested five persons after unearthing a "quantity" of small arms and ammunition.

Tension Rises

Britain's decision to halt Jewish migration to the Holy Land has produced an almost tangible atmosphere of tension in Palestine.

This was evident today as Jews watched British troops string miles of barbed wire around government buildings, railway stations, broadcasting studios and other public premises.

It was evident, too, in underground reports of full scale reconnaissance by British sea and air units to locate illegal immigrant ships before they reach Palestine territorial waters.

The Royal Navy and the RAF have established a blockade along the entire 106 miles of Holy Land coastline, and Jewish leaders are convinced intercepted refugees will be diverted to internment camps on the island of Cyprus.

Zionist spokesmen acknowledge that five blockade runners are already enroute to Palestine, and are determined to assist the newcomers to reach their goal.

British Bombers To Salute Cities

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Twelve Lancaster bombers of the British Royal Air Force roared away from Andrews field, Washington, today on a good-will flight over Atlantic City, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

The squadron on its return flight to Washington early this afternoon was scheduled to fly in salute over the White House and the capitol, dipping wings in tribute to the American people and to President Truman.

Army air forces officials said the formation flight over the White House, at an altitude of 2,500 feet, is the first such operation permitted since the war.

The RAF squadron is commanded by Wing Commander Alan Craig of Glasgow, Scotland, and Craig like all of the visiting airmen achieved an impressive combat record.

The Lancasters arrived in Washington Thursday, following an aerial tour of the United States after a formation flight across the Atlantic.

United States and British military and civilian dignitaries have joined forces to entertain the visitors, who will be based in the nation's capital a week before continuing their aerial tour of North America.

BH Against Discrimination

The bill would have outlawed discrimination in employment because of race, creed or color. As a result of Slaughter's vote, even the temporary FEPC created by Roosevelt was forced to go out of existence last June because of lack of funds.

President Truman's opposition to Slaughter hardened when his fellow Missourian also voted later against still another important administration measure.

stitions on grain after the department reported that prospects have improved for record-breaking wheat and corn production in 1946.

In its monthly crop report based on Aug. 1 conditions, the department estimated this year's corn output at three billion, 496 million, 320 thousand bushels and the wheat yield at one billion, 160 million, 366 thousand bushels.

The corn production forecast is nearly nine million bushels more than the output predicted by the department on July 15, and the Aug. 1 wheat expectations are 28 million bushels above the July 15 estimate of the 1946 yield.

Agriculture officials speculated that the actual 1946 wheat and corn output might exceed the latest forecast. They pointed out that for the last seven years final corn production has been from three to nine per cent more than the Aug. 1 expectations.

The previous record corn crop was the three billion, 203 million bushel harvest of 1944. To date, the largest wheat output in any one year was the one billion, 123 million bushel production turned out last year.

Conditions Favorable

The agriculture department said favorable growing conditions for the country "as a whole" in July accounted for the brighter prospects of record 1946 crops.

In addition to the bumper wheat and corn outputs, record tobacco, peach, plum and truck crops are anticipated this year. Near-record crops of oats, rice, peanuts, potatoes, pears, grapes, cherries and sugar cane also are expected.

America's aggregate crop production of the year is estimated at 27 per cent above the 1923-32 average and three per cent above the previous record year of 1942.

Not Emperor Rule

Yoshida explained that the majority of Japanese people do not believe that "national policy" "governmental structure" means direct emperor rule but claimed that "a community of free people with the emperor as a symbol of national unity is being formed."

Yoshida's idea of democracy within the tenno or emperor system was illustrated by yesterday's announcement from Communist Leader Manabu Sano. Sano announced that he is reorganizing the Japanese Communist party to create "Socialism under the tenno system."

Yoshida, in commenting on other aspects of the occupation, said cancellation of government indemnities to bomb-shattered war industries was "painful" but necessary in order to start a new economic life for Japan.

Britain's income from foreign investments in 1938, the last "normal year," was $1,000,000,000.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Slaughter Defeat Is Mighty Small Gain

WASHINGTON—Since he moved into the White House, President Truman's political ventures have not been too happy. The suspicion had begun to grow that he lacked the political touch.

In his victory over Representative Roger C. Slaughter of Missouri, the President had on his side luck and the Pendergast machine. He risked a great deal for a triumph that is largely negative. If Slaughter had won, the Truman opposition both within and without the Democratic party would have crowded mightily.

The way in which the President put the case laid him wide open in the event that Slaughter had been re-nominated in last Tuesday's primary. It was a perfect illustration of his inclination to come out with off-hand answers to important questions.

If he's right, then I'm wrong, said the President when he made clear his opposition to Slaughter at a press conference. In the light of a Slaughter victory, that would have looked very, very foolish. To begin with, it is such an over-simplification to be essentially untrue.

Roger Slaughter, as a symbol, might well be taken as a text for the political confusion of the time in which we live. The key to Slaughter's importance lay in his appointment to the House, Veteran Democrats tell a story of how he came to get that appointment. It was a story which may or may not be true. But the important thing is that it could be true.

When, in 1944, Speaker Sam Rayburn was casting covetous eyes on the vice-presidential nomination, as the story goes, he made a speech in Kansas City. While there, he was approached by spokesmen for the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce who urged him to consider Slaughter for an important committee post. Rayburn is said to have agreed to put Slaughter on the Rules committee.

Big Business

One thing is certain. In that key position, Slaughter made himself the representative of big business, although a member of the majority party, elected by Democratic votes. Slaughter in committee helped to stop measure after measure sought by the leader of his party. In other words, he helped to sabotage the reform program of his own party.

An ironic comment on all this is the effort to build Slaughter up into the figure of a noble conservative. Several national magazines have taken part in that effort. It is to confuse party lines, to deny party responsibility and to say no to everything makes a man a conservative, then Slaughter qualifies.

But in any responsible political system, this would scarcely be an acceptable definition. It was not the definition in Great Britain, where for so long the conservatives served the best of the system under which they lived. While the Labor party victory of a year ago might have occurred in any event, it is significant that, in that campaign, the most reactionary elements in the Conservative party were allowed to dominate, with the result that the Conservatives resorted to screams of "Gestapo" and "dictatorship" which offended British common sense.

Defeat A Surprise

Even to veteran analysts in Missouri, such as Curtis Betts of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the Slaughter defeat came as a surprise. They believed that Republicans would go to the Democratic primary in order to return Slaughter and embarrass the President.

The reasons for the victory of Enos A. Axtell, the President's candidate, are not hard to find. It means, above all, that the Pendergast machine, which suffered severely at the time of the late "Boss" Tom Pendergast's downfall, is stronger than almost anyone suspected. How much the President influenced the outcome, no one can say. He certainly made it plain to James Pendergast, nephew and heir of Boss Tom, that a lot turned on the outcome.

Most Missourians still find it difficult to realize that Harry Truman is President of the United States. They remember back to that old primary, only 12 years ago, when for the first time Truman stepped timidly out onto the national stage as a spear carrier in the Roosevelt grand opera. He was Boss Tom's choice for the Senate and at the proper time on election night, Boss Tom produced the votes to overcome the lead piled up by his chief opponent, Representative John J. Cochran, in St. Louis.

PAC Helped

Another factor in Axtell's victory was the PAC. With a margin of only 2300 votes over Slaughter, Axtell may owe the outcome to the active support of organized labor almost as much as to the Pendergast machine.

If he is elected in the fall, Axtell can be counted on to vote with his party. That is the extent of the gain from the President's point of view. Measured against the political necessities of the moment, it looks pretty small.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Residents of the little hamlet of Sleaford in England searched for two days through fields and moors for a neighbor's three-quarter-ton bull that had mysteriously disappeared.

The bull finally was found—atop a sixty-foot tower of Kyme Castle. He had waked up the narrow stairway and couldn't turn around to get back after he had found that there wasn't anything he wanted in the tower.

They ordered him back but he didn't budge. They tried to turn him around, but there wasn't enough room.

Finally somebody got a persuader, and by taps on the nose with this useful instrument, they backed him down the stairs.

On arrival the disgusted and humiliated bull let out a great roar and ambled off into the accustomed pasture.

Somehow this bull reminded me of myself and of many people I know.

Many a time I have wandered off into unknown fields and climbed stairs into heights that were not mine and where I couldn't turn or didn't know how to get back to earth.

In other words, many a time I have got myself into jams and many a time friends of mine have got themselves into jams.

In my own case, whenever I thought I had found a way of getting rich quick and climbing the narrow stairs to wealth I found myself in some tight squeeze on top the tower and didn't know how to get down again.

I don't have any of those dreams any more.

But when I was young and gay and full of pep and vinegar I was an easy prey for all sorts of schemes.

Sometimes the persuader was the sheriff who tapped me on the nose with a summons.

Later on my wife became the persuader and she tapped me so effectively that eventually, I lost my desire to become a Rocketeer or a Morgen and came to the conclusion that my stairs did not lead to gold or silver but to printing ink.

Probably most of us have played the part of the Sleaford bull for a time or once only to discover that there is a great difference between a bull and a mountain climber.

And yet, I don't think that the bull is sorry for his excursion.

I don't know whether bulls dream, and particularly day-dream. But, if they do, this Sleaford bull may have seen miles and miles of luscious fodder from that tower.

So, even if he will have to be satisfied with ordinary fare from now on, for a moment a great and wonderful world lay before him.

FOOD SEASONING

It does not help much to get up a meal having all the proper things in it, if for stuff is not eaten.

Seasoning or flavor, or good taste is a very important part of cooking. Some very valuable foods do not have a very good taste. By using some kind of seasoning they may be made very palatable.

There are so many different kinds of seasoning that it is hard to name them all. A short list would include: salt, pepper, sage, bay, marjoram, cinnamon, nutmeg, pepper, onion, wintergreen, lemon, garlic, cloves, curry, almond, caraway, anise and vanilla.

A good cook can fix foods so that they taste good enough to eat.

The odor or smell of food has a lot to do with eating it. Pleasant odors seem to stimulate the appetite and start the digestive juices flowing.

Advantage should be taken of all the good odors and tastes to help us eat our 2500 calories every day.

THE best political judgment in New York is that that is exactly what is going to happen to them. Governor Dewey, at this time, is better than an even bet for re-election. Undoubtedly he has made a fine record as governor, is stronger in the state than when he ran in 1942. Also, it will be recalled that in 1944, with the war on, he only lost the election to Mr. Roosevelt by less than 350,000 votes despite the opposition of the CIO, the American Labor party and the Communists. This time the combination of the CIO, ALP and Communist combination upon his defeat, it is contended will prove a great asset to him.

CERTAINLY, the violent hatred of the combination for Mr. Dewey should be a strong inducement to those who have the combination to support him—even though they have no other reason. The number of those who desire the combination is many times greater than the numbers in the combination. Indeed, it looks as though the CIO, the ALP and the Communists had overplayed their hand this time. Very badly.

If, as now expected, Mr. Dewey is re-elected governor they will not only have sustained their worst defeat but will greatly have enhanced his chances of becoming President.

The duties of the maid of honor or the bridesmaid are to take her during the ceremony to take her bouquet while the bride is being put on her finger, and return it to her, and to arrange her train and veil when she starts down the aisle after the wedding.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

The President signed the bill Thursday that will put into effect the Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946. This little Act will give each enlisted man the opportunity to collect money for the furlough time that he did not have the opportunity to use while a member of the armed forces of the United States. Officers were always paid for the time they didn't use but heretofore this time was just lost sugar for the enlisted man.

Local men and women interested in collecting their back wages may apply through the Veterans Affairs office which is located here in New Castle in the Court House Annex. Those living in and near Ellwood City may gain their information and file application in the branch of the Veterans Affairs office located in the Municipal Building, Ellwood City.

Here is an example on computing net furlough or leave time. Suppose the veteran had 18 months of active service. He would have earned 24 times 18, or a total of 432 days of furlough or leave time. Now suppose he had used only ten days furlough while in service. There would remain 35 days payable under this law. However, if he was AWOL for 20 days, or in confinement for 30 days, his total active service would be reduced to 17 months and his total furlough or leave time reduced to 42 days. Now minus those ten days furlough taken, would leave a total of 32 days for which he could be paid.

And we hear someone say, "would that be 32 days pay at the grade or rating he held at the time of discharge? Yes, comrades, if he were a corporal at the time of discharge, he will be entitled to one month and 2 days pay at a corporal's base pay, plus longevity pay, for length of service, if any."

On the civilian side of life we heard a school teacher talking. In fact, the comment by the school marm was directed directly to our ears. Miss Laura Blucher told us that the window display at the New Castle Store depicting the opening of school, and showing a school that is the way school teachers look to their pupils and the parents. "personally we think the window is very clever and well done. . . . how do you feel?"

CIO And Communists Team Against Dewey

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. THOSE who fully grasp the facts believe the national significance of the New York State election in November hardly can be overestimated. Fully aware that the results will be far-reaching, the more astute among the politicians of both parties in other states are here in Washington are watching this one very closely, indeed.

FOR this there are two reasons. One of course is that it will determine whether Governor Dewey, again slated as the Republican gubernatorial candidate, will figure in 1948 once more as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination—or sink into political oblivion. But there is much more to the election than that. In it is involved the question of the political power in the greatest state of the Union, and therefore in the nation, of the two most active, articulate and aggressive groups in the country—the Congress of Industrial Organization and the Communist party.

OSTENSIBLY separate but actually intertwined these groups have opened a campaign against Mr. Dewey. Three months and more before the election, taking the lead away from the Democrats, they officially announce that he has to be beaten—and that they are the boys to do the job. On the same day a few weeks ago statements to the effect came from Mr. Louis Holland, president of the New York State CIO and Mr. Robert Thompson, state chairman of the Communist party.

THESE statements were pre-empted by anti-Dewey blarney in the CIO and Communist organs. At the moment, the governor is their chief mutual detestation. In all CIO-Communist publicity Mr. Dewey is slurred as the No. 1 villain, whose defeat by the governor is vitally necessary to the "liberal forces" of the nation. In their words, the Communists and the CIO have gone to the extreme limit and together in the fight against Governor Dewey.

For a long time they have been issuing warnings and making threats, but they promise and predict his defeat.

THE openness with which these two groups have taken over the job of driving Governor Dewey out of public life is unprecedented and undisguised. The cause for their intense hostility is somewhat vague. Chiefly it seems based on two things: 1. Because he is a good administrator. 2. Because he does not truckle to the CIO and Communist leaders. But they are not the less in deadly earnest about it. They prod the Democratic leaders to put strong and not just "nominal" anti-Dewey men on their ticket, insisting that this is the only way to defeat him, so that the party chieftains about not having a liberal program. Yet liberal is not their leave no room for doubt that their full strength will be joined with the Democrats to "beat Dewey."

NOT until recently has the extreme eagerness of the CIO-Communist combination to "beat Dewey" been realized—or revealed. Not until now has that been disclosed as a principal 1946 objective. Now it is clear that everything these two groups have will be used to achieve this objective. If they succeed, they will have given a demonstration of political power that will tremendously enhance their strength and prestige in national politics. If they fail, they will have been dealt a body blow. They will be shown as unable to make good their threats, exhibited as bluffs, weakened all down the line.

THE best political judgment in New York is that that is exactly what is going to happen to them. Governor Dewey, at this time, is better than an even bet for re-election. Undoubtedly he has made a fine record as governor, is stronger in the state than when he ran in 1942. Also, it will be recalled that in 1944, with the war on, he only lost the election to Mr. Roosevelt by less than 350,000 votes despite the opposition of the CIO, the American Labor party and the Communists. This time the combination of the CIO, ALP and Communist combination upon his defeat, it is contended will prove a great asset to him.

CERTAINLY, the violent hatred of the combination for Mr. Dewey should be a strong inducement to those who have the combination to support him—even though they have no other reason. The number of those who desire the combination is many times greater than the numbers in the combination. Indeed, it looks as though the CIO, the ALP and the Communists had overplayed their hand this time. Very badly.

If, as now expected, Mr. Dewey is re-elected governor they will not only have sustained their worst defeat but will greatly have enhanced his chances of becoming President.

Big Church Around The Corner

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SILLY BEHAVIOR

"Dear Dr. Myers: I would appreciate your suggestions in the handling of practically the only puzzling problem I have with my little girl two years old. I enjoy her company very much, and we have wonderful experiences together, and I consider her a happy, well-behaved, co-operative, understanding child.

"She has never refused to do what is necessary in line of getting dressed, eating, going to the bathroom, nor makes any comment when not allowed to touch things nor when I leave her for short periods alone, or for longer periods with others. I try to make things pleasant and quick but at the same time having her assume almost full responsibility for these things. She does extremely well."

A Silly Struck

"However, it seems that she has acquired a very silly streak, during which everything should be a huge game. She experiments at mixing small portions of her food together and holding her spoon in either hand in different positions, even attempting to eat from the handle. When she is dressing she buttons the buttons purposefully in the wrong holes, and laces her shoes wrong. In bed she likes to sing and talk and sing, although she is very tired, and does not stand up or move about."

"She has until now done these things very well, with plenty of conversation and praise and encouragement, and no urging or rushing. In fact, she has done so well that it has been very pleasant. I have seldom spanked her for anything, and she never threatens her in any way. She still co-operates, but in this silly manner, I enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope."

Psychologist Replies

In answering this mother I urged her to make clear to that youngster the silly types of behavior she won't tolerate in her. I hope you don't class of the same seriousness (those types of behavior have named together. Only one who you have named would seem to warrant your grave concern, her mixing of foods. Since so great a nuisance may grow out of it, you don't wish to let it go on.

Either serve her only one food at a time or remove her food and end her meal when she begins the mixing. If she responds well to the word "No," just tell her "once no" to do it. But, as a rule, either spanking or chair-sitting should be avoided in connection with her eating, lest it be associated in her experience with certain foods or behavior in general, reducing her appetite.

However, to remove the food should make her more hungry at the next meal, provided she had nothing to eat in the meantime.

Her silly ways with the spoon, buttoning her clothes or lacing her shoes, don't strike me as serious problems. Even her giggling and singing after going to bed may warrant rebuke or punishment. By doing them she probably finds she is just "getting you goat." Then, too, she may be pretty high-strung. Anything you can do by day to provide her with a calm and quiet atmosphere should help—low voice, silent radio, to name two instances. You seem to have won so great success with that child that you should be happy over all your achievements. Do continue with your gentleness, love and patience.

Reports from all over the nation indicate that the Independence Day holiday was one of the safest on record, insofar as highway safety is concerned. Safety organizations, the public, civic organizations and public spirited citizens concerned their activities to make the motoring public safety conscious. It can be done. If we can establish a safety record on holidays during the year, isn't it reasonable to assume we can do it on other days too. Is it asking too much of you to ask you to support to eliminate the needless tragedies that occur every year on our highways?

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR CORRESPONDENCE

The opening sentence of a social letter, like that of a novel is the all-important element. An excuse for not having written sooner is much better omitted unless it is convincing and not uncomplimentary to the addressee. Too many such excuses are really most unflattering.

"I have intended writing to you for days, but have been too busy," is certainly uncomplimentary. No one emancipated from dire slavery is too busy to write a few lines to a friend between 12:30 and 1:00. Another bad beginning is the one that reminds the addressee that you are always a "bad correspondent" or that "nothing of interest has happened."

I know an executive who on discovering himself guilty of neglecting a correspondent regularly adopts this formula: "Returning here, I find your letter of July 6th and hasten to reply." He has not been away a day and he is taking a liberty with strict truth. But he is less on that account than if he hurls his correspondent's feelings by some fool apology that amounted to an admission of indifference or laziness.

Other introductions to be avoided are such stilted mid-Victorian business forms as: "Yours of even date to hand and I hasten to reply as follows." Or "In reply to your esteemed letter of the 15th I am glad to state."

The modern executive simply states: "I am glad to receive your letter of yesterday stating . . ." We will be very glad to comply with your request of July 31st."

In your social correspondence give all of the interesting news fit to put on paper, but don't forget to intersperse your letter with "you." What's been happening in your life since last heard from you? I think you know frequently and wonder how Ned is getting on in his new business. Let me know the details. We are all bored with ourselves and are naturally drawn to those who show some interest in our affairs as well as their own.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelopes.

THE "JUDICIAL POWER"

The first Congress under the Constitution of the United States held its first session in the City of New York, beginning September 25th, 1789. Under the Constitution, George Washington had been inaugurated the first president of the preceding March. A new nation had been born and its troubles had begun.

The proposal to endow Congress with power to negative state legislation having been rejected by the new-born Congress, Martin of Maryland moved that "the legislative acts of the United States made in virtue and in pursuance of the Articles of Union, and all treaties made or ratified under the authority of the United States shall be the supreme law of the respective states; that the judges of the several states shall be bound thereby in their decisions, anything in the respective laws of the individual states to the contrary, notwithstanding."

The motion was agreed to without dissenting voice and with some slight changes became Paragraph 2 of Article VI of the Constitution. This Paragraph 2 of Article VI has been called "the lunch-pail of the Constitution."

Then on the 27th of August it was agreed by the delegates that "the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court" should "extend to all cases arising under the laws passed by the Legislature of the United States." Whether that is such laws should be in pursuance of the Constitution or not, the foundation was thus laid for the Supreme Court to claim the right to review any state decision.

Democrats Want Clear Platform

Gubernatorial Candidate Objects To Previous Platforms As Too Wordy

HARRISBURG, Aug. 10. (INS)—A "clear and simple" Democratic platform designed to "fool nobody" was planned today by Democratic party leaders.

House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, of Johnstown, committee chairman, said John S. Rice, gubernatorial candidate, had requested the simplified platform. The committee will meet at Harrisburg August 27 to accelerate its work.

Rice, Andrews added, had objected to previous platforms as being "full of words that can be titled either way."

"It will be written with candidates sitting in," he said. "Every consideration will be given to their point of view. It will be the platform of the Democratic party and its candidates." Andrews reported that wage or direct sales taxes to finance a proposed state veterans bonus had been ruled out although payments had not been determined "in detail."

Nelson W. McCloskey, of York, former commander of the State Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been named an advisor on veterans affairs and will name a committee to assist him.

Andrews promised immediate action on housing with aid anticipated from the federal government.

Immediate action on state institutions was pledged. Andrews reported that the committee recognized that "something must be done" to aid cities which he said were in a "sad financial condition."

"Planks dealing with Philadelphia and Pittsburgh have not been framed," he added.

Rice's campaign proposal calling for the hard-surfacing of 30,000 miles of roads will be included in the platform, Andrews reported.

More home accidents take place on stairways than anywhere else in the house.

CHURCH WEDDING FRIDAY EVENING

Bouquets of white gladiolus at either side of the altar in the Third U. P. church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock formed the setting for the wedding of Miss Doris Jean Daugherty, daughter of George C. Daugherty, 1820 East Washington street, and Jack E. Montgomery, son of Mrs. V. E. Montgomery, of 854 Vogan avenue.

Dr. Robert M. Patterson, pastor of Central Presbyterian church, officiated at the single ring ceremony in the presence of a gathering of relatives and friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a light beige dress-maker suit accented by a narrow black belt, a pink feather hat, and a corsage of pink gladiolus. She wore a bracelet, gift of the groom.

Mrs. R. L. Pearce of Pittsburgh, as her sister's only attendant, wore a deep cherry red suit with a blue feather hat and a corsage of roses and gladiolus.

Richard Montgomery was his brother's best man.

There was a reception at the home of the bride's father for 25 guests following the ceremony. Miss Aleta Mae Montgomery and Miss Betty Gray were bridesmaids.

The bride and groom left on a week's wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and on their return will be at home in an apartment at 839 Morton street.

Seek To Identify Crash Victims

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Aug. 10. (INS)—Authorities sought today to identify the bodies of at least six victims killed in the mid-air crash of two Army bombers before several thousand horrified spectators at the North Montana fair grounds.

Dr. L. L. McBurney, coroner, said six bodies have been assembled from the plane wreckage and the ruins of the racing stable set afire by the crash but that others were believed to have perished. He declared:

"More persons were reported missing than we have bodies. So far, we've assembled six bodies, but we have some parts left over. It is impossible to state now how many were killed."

Colide In Air
The two planes, both speedy A-26 attack bombers, collided yesterday while flying at a low altitude. One bomber crashed into the stable, setting it afire. The other careened northward, and its wreckage was found two miles north of the fair grounds with the bodies of the crewmen still inside.

The two known dead were Lt. Arthur P. Pelletier of Coleraine, Minn., who was stationed at the Great Falls airbase, and Dorothy Szabo, 19-year-old Montana university student. Miss Szabo was identified by her father.

Names of the other Army men were withheld pending notification of their relatives.

Missing and believed dead was Andy Seaman of Texburg, Ala., a stable man.

Walker Carroll, chief of the Great Falls bureau of identification, was called in by Army authorities to fingerprint the dead fliers in an effort to make positive identification.

Dr. Benson, minister for over 20 years of historic Greenpoint Reformed church, Brooklyn, is a world traveler and an author of many books including the brochure, "How God Deals With Benney".

He has been instrumental in building four churches across America. He flew this year to Holland and Palestine to make a survey and was in the King David hotel a short time before its bombing.

The Brooklyn minister is preaching representative to the United Presbyterian churches in the Pittsburgh area this summer. His being in New Castle is quite timely, especially since a union of the Reformed Church in America and the United Presbyterian church is now being considered.

While Rev. Blair has been blind for a number of years, he has been able to continue his ministry with the help of his Seeing Eye dog. His many friends who will want to hear him speak will be glad to welcome him to the pulpit of the local church on Sunday.

BROKEN PROMISES?

After the first world war the Jews were given a promise. (Great Britain's Balfour Declaration) that Palestine should be open for immigrant Jews. Palestine to be made their homeland. Now that the few Jews who were fortunate to acquire entrance several years ago have reclaimed Palestine's waste land and changed it to productiveness, because of this, they are eyed with jealousy and pronounced undesirable. Not only were the Dictators their persecutors, but now we see Great Britain banning their entrance en-masse. Any Nation that will block the Jews from returning to Palestine is doomed to suffer calamity. We cannot be Christians and harbor hatred for this oppressed people who even now are being hunted like animals. A CITY IS TO BE DESTROYED soon according to the account given in Revelation 18th chapter of the NEW TESTAMENT. Let us not invite Judgment unnecessarily. Read: Gen. 12:1-3.

We specialize in teaching holiness of heart and life.

Plans Progress For Convention

Districts Outside New Castle Have Best Reservation Record Thus Far

Less than two months remain until the 84th convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association convenes at the Cathedral, this city, October 8 to 11, and plans are progressing for the entertainment of this great gathering of Sunday school leaders from all over the state of Pennsylvania.

While good progress has been made on securing 1000 delegates from Lawrence county, still quite a number of churches and Sunday schools have not sent in check for quota of delegates. The districts outside of New Castle that have the best record to date are the Wilmington, Slippery Rock and Plaingrove districts, and these are not 100% as yet. It is thought that during the coming week or ten days, many responses will come from the Sunday schools that as yet are not on the honor roll.

The state convention program will be an outstanding one, and the program participants will be announced in the near future. Every county in the state has been given a quota of delegates, so that all will have a proportionate opportunity to be represented, based on the distance to be travelled.

Among state Sunday school convention-goers, New Castle has the reputation for being a hospitable, friendly convention city with excellent facilities.

His many friends will welcome the opportunity to greet him Sunday.

Mrs. Myers is the former Miss Clarissa Duff, who used to reside on Sumner avenue, this city.

SQUELCH ATTEMPT TO LOOT SCHOOL'S FRATERNITY HOUSES

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Philadelphia police reported today that they have broken up an organized attempt to rob fraternity houses at the University of Pennsylvania.

Patrolman Joseph Perleberg arrested a man identified as Ernest West when he saw him carrying an over-stuffed chair under his arm.

St. Luke's A.M.E. Zion Church Plans To Raise $2000

To Liquidate Debt, Improve Property, Meet Sesquicentennial Assessment

Reverend K. Melvin Taylor, pastor of St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church, today announced plans for the raising of $2,000 which will be used to liquidate some outstanding debt, meet the required assessment of the Sesquicentennial and redecorating the church property.

St. Luke's church is a unit of the oldest Negro international church organization in the United States. Rev. Taylor, the pastor has just been advised of his election by the Board of Bishops to the post of vice president of the Parade committee for the Sesquicentennial which starts at noon Saturday, Sept. 14.

Briefly, Methodism began in the year 1729 at Oxford, England, by John Wesley, Charles Wesley, Robert Kirkman and William Morgan. John Wesley came to America, to the state of Georgia, in the month of November, 1733 but was not successful in converting the Indians.

The first Methodist preaching service was held in New York City in the year 1766, the sermon was delivered by the Rev. Phillip Embury, an immigrant from Ireland who was converted by Mr. Wesley in that country. There were five people who attended this service, among them one Negro woman slave by the name of Betty from the household of Mr. and Mrs. Heck.

The first Methodist church to be built in New York City was built by Rev. Phillip Embury, on John street, and since then has been known as the old John Street church. Negro slaves and ex-slaves held membership in this church being permitted to sit in the gallery. Two of the names listed as members during this period are Peter Williams and Mary Durham.

In the year 1796 the Negro membership of this Methodist church had increased to such a number that the galleries of the White church could not easily contain them. Then Francis Jacob, William Brown, Peter Williams, Abraham Thompson, June Scott, Samuel Pontier, Thomas Miller, James Varick, who was later bishop and William Hamilton, banded themselves together having bought their freedom from slavery, and started the first Negro Methodist prayer meeting.

In the office of the clerk of the city and county of New York Library No. 1 of Records of Incorporation of Religious Denominations (page 28) March 9th, 1801, James Hughes being the master in chancery. It is recorded that these men obtained a charter for the operation of the A. M. E. Zion church.

Since then the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church has been on the scene in every important movement in America for 150 years. Among the many nationally known Negroes who have passed on through its portals are J. W. Hooper, Frederick Douglass, Frederick Douglass, J. J. Clinton, J. W. Hooper, Charles Price, Solomon Truth, Eliza Gardner, Harriet Tubman, W. Blackwell, and today we have among the living great, Mrs. Emma C. Clement, elected by a unanimous vote as National Mother for the U. S. A. this year.

During these years, this organization started by a handful of illiterate men (slaves) has grown to a communicant table of over 640,000 souls embracing all sections of the U. S., Canada, Africa, South America, and the West Indies. The general conference held at Detroit in 1944 unanimously decided to observe the 150th birthday this year in New York City, the birthplace of Methodism.

This celebration, unique in scope, will venture to review the original aims of our church and race for freedom, education, religion, race, self expression, and economic and social growth. Efforts will be made to expand our institutions, liquidate church debts, move forward in missions, build a substantial pension fund for the protection of workers of the organization.

Among the many foreign and native personages to appear during the celebration are the Hon. Harry S. Truman, President of these United States, Governor Arnall of Georgia, Governor Dewey of New York, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Governor Martin of Pennsylvania, His Excellency William V. S. Tubman, President of Liberia, Africa; Hon. G. W. Gibson, D. D. G. C. KGB, of Africa; Hon. Dixon B. Brown, D. S. C. K. C. G. C. deputy commissioner of Monrovia, Africa; Walter W. White, executive secretary, National A. C. C. P. America.

This celebration opens in New York City on Sunday, the 8th of September, 1946, by the grace of God. The contributions of every Christian towards the raising of this fund is solicited. Checks may be made to St. Luke A. M. E. Zion church.

Two Get Commissions In National Guard's Anti-Aircraft Force

HARRISBURG, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Hugh J. Cunningham, 370 Orchard drive, Pittsburgh, had an appointment from Gov. Edward Martin today as commander of the 218th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Group of the Pennsylvania National Guard's 51st AAA Brigade.

The 51-year-old soldier was given the rank of colonel.

Arthur D. Bertolotti, 36, of Lansdowne, was commissioned lieutenant colonel to command the 70th AAA Gun Battalion, according to PNG headquarters.

Cunningham was a machine gun platoon leader during World War I. During the last conflict, he served with the internal security forces in Western Pennsylvania and England and the 1st Provisional Regiment of the infantry replacement training center in Camp Gordon, Ga.

Bertolotti's military record included World War II service with numerous anti-aircraft units in Bermuda, France and Germany.

The new commanders were among 25 new officers appointed, boosting the total commissioned officer force to 388 men. It was reported.

Finally Receives A-Bomb Award

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—A French government decoration awarded in 1939 to Dr. Joseph Slepian, Westinghouse research director who helped develop the atomic bomb, finally caught up with him in Pittsburgh. Slepian was given the decoration on May 1939, for a series of lectures and conferences with French scientists. The war broke out and the award naming him an "Officier d'Académie" did not arrive until today.

The award is one of six made to Americans by French Ministry of National Education.

DALLAS, Ore.—(INS)—Chet Crowley endured three months in the hospital after he broke his left leg at work in a sawmill. He had been out of the hospital a week when he was carried back in again after a fall down a flight of stairs at the sawmill. Yes, he had broken his left leg.

Veterans Donating Blood To Children

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The blood which a group of 21 veterans was prepared to shed for their country in war is today coursing into the veins of children who would die without it.

The children are victims of Cooley's anemia, a malady for which there is no cure. They report semi-monthly to the New York hospital for the transfusions which keep them alive.

The blood donors are members of the American Veterans committee, Manhattan chapter 22, who learned about the little sufferers from a visit one of their members made to the hospital.

First factory on American soil made glass beads for Indian trade, and the surplus became our first manufactured export to England.

The modern quince is a product of Persia.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 10.—Lana Turner has turned into a gorgeous brunette in preparation for her first starring role in a year. She goes before the camera September 15 in "Green Dolphin Street". It probably will be the most costly picture in movie history.

It's M-G-M's prize of prizes for luscious Lana, who showed what she could do as a dramatic actress in "The Postman Always Rings Twice".

In that Lana was a platinum blonde, but the fact is she's a natural brunette, although she's only appeared on the screen that way once.

Lana, as Marianne Patourel, is the only positive casting. Petite June Allyson may play her sister, Marguerite, and Richard Hart is being considered as "William," the man who sends from New Zealand for Marianne when he really was in love with Marguerite.

Montgomery Out
Hart's just finished "Sacred and Profane" with Greer Garson. He was brought here from the New York stage after Robert Montgomery decided the role was not for him. It's his only screen appearance.

With most of the action to be shot on two locations, M-G-M hopes to complete the production for $4,500,000—the same cost as "Gone with the Wind" but much higher production costs since they may send it up to $6,000,000.

First shooting will be near Klamath, Cal., where a huge set is to be cut out of the virgin forest about four miles from the ocean. The City of Wellington, N. Z., of the last century will be re-created on Catalina Island, off the southern California coast.

The confidence which L. B. Mayer has in Lana for the top role is demonstrated by the fact that Academy Award winning Katharine Hepburn was first assigned to it.

Katie, who's always divided her time equally between the movies and the stage, has just signed a new M-G-M contract, with the result she'll make three pictures in a row, which will have everybody in town gasping. She did "Undercurrent" with Bob Taylor and is just completing "Sea of Grass" with Spencer Tracy and Melvyn Douglas. After a brief vacation in Hartwood, Conn., she'll go right into "Song of Love" for Producer-Director Clarence Brown.

Most beautiful picture of the week is Cyd Charisse in a wine-colored gown with high neck and long sleeves. It could have been designed for a royal princess. But no princess could give it the grace Cyd did.

McKeesport Board To Discuss Boost

McKEESPORT, Pa., Aug. 10.—(INS)—Public school custodians members of the CIO-Public Workers Union scheduled a meeting tomorrow night in McKeesport to vote on the school board's proposed wage increases.

The board voted wage boosts of $25 to $75 per month and a $400 yearly bonus to cover the present day higher living costs, but union officials termed the increases "unsatisfactory."

Union leaders contended that under the board's proposal, a number of the 34 employees involved will not receive any wage hike and others only $1.67 a month.

Bids were opened by the county commissioners on the purchase of a truck for the use of the county, and for a new clock to replace the present clock, which is worn out and of an obsolete type.

There was only one bidder on the truck, the Rick Motor company presenting a bid of $1,244.72 for a one-ton Dodge pickup truck, less a credit of $455 on the old Plymouth station wagon. After some discussion of the matter, the bid was rejected, and for the time being the county will get along with the station wagon.

There were three bids on the clock. International Business Machines company offered a bid of $2,305.23 less $120.23 tax, which municipalities and county governments are not required to pay. This was for a new electric clock system.

Tower Clock Service company of Springfield, O., presented a bid of $1285 for the electrification of the present clock. However, they accompanied their bid with only a counter check in lieu of a certified check, and the bid could not be accepted.

Marvin Electric company of New Castle was the only other bidder. Their offer was $4,458.75 for a new electric clock system.

Urges Democrats To Back Relief Of Real Estate Taxes

HARRISBURG, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The Democratic platform committee today had a recommendation from Mayor David L. Lawrence, of Pittsburgh, that "the party go strongly on record for relief of local real estate taxation through greater assumption of the burden by the state government."

"Although the committee has not finally passed upon the separate planks of the platform, I have received definite assurance that the party will continue its fight to relieve local governments of a burden which has become intolerable, and which has seriously hampered real estate—meaning particularly the home-owner the farmer and the tenant," Lawrence said.

Lawrence claimed the state government would be able to distribute the load more equitably because of its "broader legal base of taxation."

Mrs. Landers is positive the "Little girl whom nobody missed" is Sherron Lang, who disappeared without a trace four years ago with her mother, Estella. The child's kin believe that one of the other unidentified fire victims may be Sherron's mother. (International Seaplane)

Democratic Candidate Opposes Sales Taxes

HARRISBURG, Aug. 10.—(INS)—John S. Rice, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, was prepared today to fight any attempts to finance a state bonus for World War II veterans by a general sales tax.

"There is good reason to believe that this may be what the governor and his supporters have in mind, because the Republican leadership in Pennsylvania has been fighting for years to levy a general sales tax which would place the burden of government expense on the average individual and exempt the wealthy Republican campaign contributors, Rice said.

According to the reports of the church committees, a large crowd is expected to attend.

Father Divine's 'Sweet Angel' Is Here Without Visa

Twenty-One-Year-Old Canadian Girl Has Overstayed Visa By Nine Months

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Father Divine's pretty white bride today sought government permission to remain in the Negro cult leader's "heaven."

The down-to-earth immigration department has revealed that the former Edna Rose Ritchings, 21-year-old Canadian girl, entered this country October 7, 1945, on a 29-day visa—and has overstayed about nine months.

But, neither Father Divine nor the immigration authorities appeared exceptionally excited over the matter.

As one immigration department spokesman put it:

"All we could have done would have been to deport her, or require her to leave. Now, since Canada is non-quota at all times, her husband can petition to have her remain here, without any difficulty."

The spokesman pointed out, however, that before she married Father Divine, an American citizen, the immigration department denied her application for extension of the visa.

Father Divine himself wasn't worried about the possibility of "Sweet Angel," the cult's name for his white bride, being deported.

"I am thoroughly familiar with the immigration laws, and I am sure that she is, too," he declared. The former costume jewelry store clerk was married to the Negro cultist April 29, in Washington, D. C., but news of the wedding did not leak out until a few days ago.

Chaplin's 'Hitler' Is Not Funny To Germans

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Charlie Chaplin, as Adolf in the movie "Great Dictator," isn't funny—to the Germans, that is.

The American army "sneak-pre-viewed" the film to 300 Germans to see whether they would accept ridicule of Hitler, his supporting biggies and the Nazi generally.

There were a few hisses the first time the fidgety and Mussolini appeared on the screen—but no laughs. The German audience was not warned of what was coming. The marquee read "Kitty Foyle."

One woman walked out when it was announced that the movie would be the Chaplin show, instead of the advertised film.

She got her money back.

Suggests Owen Appeal To Frick

Mickey Owen, Tired Of Mexican League, Wants Big League Reinstatement

CINCINNATI, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Mickey Owen, who for the past week has caught everything but a baseball, was ready today to face a most questionable diamond future "like a man—whatever may happen."

Owen, who this spring jumped to the Mexican Baseball league and this week jumped right back, had gotten off a letter to National League President Ford Frick in which the former Brooklyn Dodger catcher pleaded reinstatement to major league status despite a five-year suspension imposed by Commissioner "Happy" Chandler when Owen left for Mexico last spring.

Realizing that Chandler could lift the suspension whenever he so desired, Owen yesterday sought out the commissioners' special assistant, Harold "Muddy" Ruel, and emerged from Ruel's office two hours later after having a plain and simple baseball rule which says:

"No player on the volunteered retired list or who is ineligible may be reinstated during the period from August 1 to October 1."

That took care of Owen for the remainder of this year. What is in store for next year or the year after, may lie in the hands of Frick. Ruel having suggested that Owen write the National league president and set his case before him, Frick, in turn, will turn Owen's plea over to Chandler, with or without recommendation.

Poland And Akron Polo Match Sunday

Hot Tops Hit At Homewood's Game Challenge

Joe Guzzetti, manager of the New Gallie "Hot Tops," today said that he would pit his team against Homewood of the Lawrence-Beaver league "on any field, with any guarantee, with no holds barred."

Guzzetti's statement was an answer to Pilot Carline of the Homewood club, who has challenged the Tops to a game as the result of much bickering about the merits of the teams in the two loops.

The Guzzetti club will enter into the Shaughnessy play-offs for the honors of the Lawrence County league beginning August 16. As the fourth place team they will meet Wampum in the first-round clashes.

Realizing that Chandler could lift the suspension whenever he so desired, Owen yesterday sought out the commissioners' special assistant, Harold "Muddy" Ruel, and emerged from Ruel's office two hours later after having a plain and simple baseball rule which says:

"No player on the volunteered retired list or who is ineligible may be reinstated during the period from August 1 to October 1."

The British commander declared the current conversations between U. S. and British officials on economic unity of their two zones have been "proceeding smoothly."

He said chief British problems were lack of coal, food, housing and consumer goods generally. He said tens of thousands of persons were now living in cellars, huts, and bunkers.

Butler Hospital Needs Personnel

Doctors, Therapists And Social Workers Needed For Veterans Hospital

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—Medical personnel are still urgently needed to staff the Veterans Administration's hospital at Butler, Pa. It was revealed today by Dr. Raymond R. Decker, hospital manager.

Especially needed are doctors of physical medicine, physical and occupational therapists and social workers for the medical rehabilitation program. There are also two vacancies for dentists and a few openings for X-ray and laboratory technicians, Dr. Decker said.

Stressing the importance of medical rehabilitation in the VA's hospital program, Dr. Decker urged doctors of physical medicine and other qualified personnel in the field of therapeutics to apply for these positions at once.

Applicants may apply directly to the Butler hospital, formerly DeShon, or to the Pittsburgh regional office, Room 1020, Fulton Building, 107 Sixth street.

Plan Deaf Test In Perfect Room

CHICAGO.—(INS)—There is a perfect room in Chicago. It offers peace and quiet. There are no outside noises, echoes or vibrations.

The air in the room is 99.9 per cent pure. The lighting is indirect. Despite the housing shortage, the room is empty.

For, to achieve its perfection, it somewhat borders on a chamber of horrors.

The walls, ceiling and floor consist of pointed spikes constructed of fiber glass. The spikes rest on rubber pads.

The experimental room, constructed at Illinois Institute of Technology, will be used to find a way to prevent and alleviate deafness.

It is essential for such experimentation, according to Prof. Peter J. Mills, that the room be echo and vibration-proof, as well as sound proof.

Prof. Mills said that if one sits quietly in the room, he will be able to hear his own heart beat.

OLD MISSION PICNIC

A large group numbering 80 gathered at Cascade Park, Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock, for the annual "Mission" picnic.

The mission which is now the Grace Bible church, was a small Sunday school founded by Mr. and Mrs. William Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford and others, who have since died. The work grew until it was necessary to have a church building. The church eventually became the Calvary Presbyterian church. The meetings, up until that time were held in the old blacksmith shop and in different homes.

The mission is no longer an active organization, but the folks, who were members of it, felt the need of an annual gathering at which time, many memories could be exchanged and talked over about the past days. Thursday, marked the seventh reunion.

After a delicious picnic supper, which was well arranged by Mrs. Alice Houck, Mrs. Bertha Graff and Mrs. Geneva Lytle, a business meeting was conducted by the president, George Body.

The new officers elected for a period of one year, are: president, Henry Taylor; vice president, Paul Fombelle; secretary, Zelda Fowler; treasurer, Katherine Fombelle.

Prize for the cow calling contest, went to Mrs. Earl Powell, with other winners being Bob Hanna and Paul Fombelle, Jr.

The fourth Sunday of September has been set aside for the homecoming date when all old mission members are invited to come back to the mission for an hour of testimony and song, which will be held in the Grace Bible church.

William Butler dismissed in prayer.

Dog Rescued From Big Coal Hopper

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Aug. 10.—(INS)—Whines coming from a coal hopper passing through a Fairmont marshalling yard today led to the rescue of a little brown-and-white dog who was buried under 70 tons of coal.

Workers freed the sad-eyed mongrel by releasing the doors at the bottom of the car. They said it was impossible to tell how long the dog had been buried, as they were not certain where the hopper was loaded.

The dog was adopted as a mascot by the railroad roundhouse employees.

Ideas, Not Grammar, Really Important

CHICAGO—Dr. Bess Sondel teaches Chicago business and professional people to think on their feet.

She advises her pupils in the University of Chicago evening college to split infinitives "if you feel like it."

For those who believe it a sin to violate syntax, Dr. Sondel said: "People remember what you had to say long after they remember how grammatically perfect you said it."

Working on the theory that the
